Economics PhD candidate with a background in mathematics. I develop reproducible Python and R pipelines for large-scale firm and energy datasets, with experience in statistical learning, causal inference, Bayesian modeling, and translating quantitative results into business and policy insights.

Education

PhD in Economics, University of Economics and Business (WU), Vienna 2024–present

Advisor: Anton Pichler

M.Sc. in Economics, University of Cologne 2022–2024

Exchange studies, Durham University (2023–2024)

B.A. in Mathematics and Philosophy, TU Braunschweig 2016–2022

Research and Technical Experience

University of Economics and Business (WU), Vienna 2024–present

PhD Researcher

- Translate open-ended research questions on firm technology adoption and financial performance into statistical and machine-learning models.

Complexity Science Hub, Vienna 2024

Researcher Intern — Green Transition and Climate Change

- Developed machine-learning methods for analyzing longitudinal firm technology portfolios using large-scale power-sector data.

Daimler AG, Stuttgart 2020–2021

Data Analyst — Market Research

- Developed a Python-based geocoding and data-cleaning pipeline to map global supply-chain locations from heterogeneous market-research data.

Federation of German Industries (BDI), Berlin 2022

Research Assistant

- Combined economic data from multiple sources and translated quantitative results into policy-relevant briefings for industry stakeholders.

CoronaNet Project, LMU Munich 2020–2022

Research Assistant

- Contributed to the construction and validation of a cross-country dataset on government COVID-19 policies; acknowledged in Cheng et al., Nature Human Behaviour \(2020\).

Selected Publication

The Widening Profitability Gap between Renewable and Fossil Power Firms in Europe

Robin Fischer and Anton Pichler. Working Paper, 2025. [\[Preprint\]](#)

Cited in German Bundestag motion 21/5484 on windfall profits in the fossil-energy sector, April 2026.

Technical Skills

Programming & Data Python, R, SQL

Machine Learning PyTorch, scikit-learn, XGBoost

Statistical Modeling Difference-in-Differences, panel-data methods, probabilistic forecasting, Bayesian hierarchical models

Engineering Tools Docker, CI/CD, Git, GitHub

Languages German (native), English (C1), Spanish (B1)

Selected Awards

Excellent Teaching Award, WU Vienna 2026

Studienstiftung des deutschen Volkes 2016–2024
